The Brightest And Best On Exhibit at Gallery 1134

They are the brightest new stars on the Chicago art horizon according to eight well-known art critics who have chosen them to participate in the CRITICS CHOICE art exhibit opening Friday, October 8 at Gallery 1134, 1134 West Washington Boulevard.

The 22 artists and sculptors, selected as "being most representative and promising in the creation of contemporary and future art," are Ralph Arnold, Gerta Berstein, Leif Brush, Bill Coons, Susan Dallas, Sally Fisher, David Friedman, Frank Garvey, Barry Holden, Robert Hutchison, Michiko Itatani, Lelde Kalmite, Alice Lauffer, Robert Mango, Warren Menaker, Lorenzo Pace, Jerry Peart, Dan Ramirez, Jerry Saltz, Donald Towns, Audrey Ushenko and Douglas Williams.

"These exciting young artists were selected by art critics Jane Allen, Harry Bouras, Earl Calloway, Robert Glauber, Derek Guthrie, Harold Haydon, Gene McDaniel, and Franz Schulze," said Loren Billings, Gallery 1134's founder.

"These critics think they have the talent and drive to become major forces in shaping things to come in the art world. We're pleased to bringing their work to the art community at one time. It makes an interesting show."

The show opens at 5 PM on Friday, October 8 and can be seen Tuesday through Sunday from 11 AM to 6 PM.
