

Neighborhoods

LEFT: One of the West Loop neighborhood's cultural attractions is the Museum of Holography Chicago, 1134 W. Washington. Director Lauren Billings also oversees the hologram institute's school and research center.

RIGHT: Many of the residential row houses, such as the ones on Throop Street north of Madison, have been renovated.

BELOW: Developer Lewis S. Kostiner's Union Park Lofts at Washington and Ada is the first major residential development in the West Loop.
